COMMUNITY ADVOCATES DISABILITY ADVOCACY SERVICES

Have you recently been denied benefits on a Social Security disability claim? Are you looking for representation during the appeal process?

Community Advocates Disability Representation Program may be able to help you. Call 414 -270-2966 for more information.

Community Advocates' Disability Advocacy Services department provides representation, referral, and general advocacy services to individuals with disabilities who are seeking Social Security disability benefits. We also work to ensure that clients have access to the resources and services they need to live in dignity during the appeals process and beyond.

Are you looking for someone to represent you on a disability appeal?

Community Advocates provides representation to individuals who have received a denial letter from Social Security after filing a disability application. Because our resources are limited, we are unable to provide representation in all cases.

If you are an adult who has received a denial from Social Security and you wish to appeal, or a parent or guardian wishing to file an appeal on behalf of a minor child, please call us. We may be able to help you!

What if I decide to retain a representative from Community Advocates?

If, after talking with you, we determine that we are able to represent you, we will set up a time for you to come in for an intake appointment. We regret that we are unable to see Social Security Disability clients without an appointment. When you come in, you will need to bring the following documentation and/or information with you:

- Copies of any correspondence you have received from Social Security, including any denial letters
- Any medical records, treatment notes, test results, prescriptions, or other documentation of your condition
- A list of all the doctors, therapists, specialists and other health care providers you have seen related to the condition(s) which prevent you from working
- A list of all the medications, prescription and over-the-counter, you currently take
- A list of all your employers for the past 15 years
- Any other information you feel will assist us in evaluating your claim

Community Advocates charges the statutory fee for representation in disability claims. A copy of our fee agreement can be found on our website:
http://www.communityadvocates.net/programs/disability

Please note that Social Security attorney and non-attorney representatives may charge a fee of the lower of 25% of a claimant's past due benefits, or $6000. No fee may be collected if the claim is ultimately denied. For more information on fees and your right to representation, visit:
http://www.ssa.gov/pubs/10075.html
